Rembrandt: The Bible. Art-Appreciation And Criticism. Art-Biography. Color. 30 mins. (Kenneth Clark Rembrandt Ser.). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Directed by Colin Clark. Narrated by Kenneth Clark. Rembrandt's last years were spent entirely alone, but his love of art & of his fellow man made him unconquerable. As an illustrator of the Bible he is unsurpassed; he brooded over every episode of it in the light of his own experience, & gave to it a vivid & dramatic form. In consequence he is really the only great Protestant artist. Roland Collection. 16 mm. (Order #: 305) $693.00.

Rembrandt: The Rebel. Art-Appreciation And Criticism. Art-Biography. Color. 30 mins. (Kenneth Clark Rembrandt Ser.). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Directed by Colin Clark. Narrated by Kenneth Clark. The second film considers Rembrandt as a rebel. This aspect of his character is clear enough in his early work, both in his sympathetic etchings of tramps & beggars & in some major paintings such as "The Blinding of Samson"; it is repressed in his period of prosperity, but it never disappears entirely. Roland Collection. 16 mm. (Order #: 302) $693.00.

Rembrandt: The Self-Portraits. Art-Appreciation And Criticism. Art-Biography. Color. 30 mins. (Kenneth Clark Rembrandt Ser.). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Directed by Colin Clark. Narrated by Kenneth Clark. We know a lot about Rembrandt from his self-portraits; he was the first artist to make the self-portrait a major means of artistic expression. The series begins with the image of a vigorous roughneck, passes through confident celebrity, & ends with the penetrating visions of a solitary old man. Roland Collection. 16 mm. (Order #: 301) $693.00.

Rembrandt: The Success. Art-Biography. Art-Appreciation And Criticism. Color. 30 mins. (Kenneth Clark Rembrandt Ser.). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Directed by Colin Clark. Narrated by Kenneth Clark. The third film is concerned with Rembrandt's worldly success as a portrait painter in Amsterdam, which culminated in his enormous portrait group known as "The Night Watch.". Roland Collection. 16 mm. (Order #: 303) $693.00.

Rembrandt: The Withdrawal. Art-Biography. Art-Appreciation And Criticism. Color. 30 mins. (Kenneth Clark Rembrandt Ser.). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Directed by Colin Clark. Narrated by Kenneth Clark. Rembrandt was a careless & prodigal spender, & by the age of fifty he was threatened with bankruptcy. He 'escaped' from the prosperous life of his middle age, but this was a spiritual rather than a material withdrawal, & was also the period of his greatest work in which his painting achieved a richer color & a new spirituality. Roland Collection. 16 mm. (Order #: 304) $693.00.

The Right Choice. (1987). Guidance For Children. Drugs And Drug Addiction. Color. 14 mins. (J). Age: 8-13. (gr. 3-8). How strong a force is peer pressure in influencing a youngster to try drugs? How can children be better prepared to say "no" when confronted with that first temptation to try drugs? This program serves as a conversational springboard when shown to children aged 8 to 13 years. "The Right Choice" will challenge children to explore their feelings about drugs, peer pressure, & trust. Jointly produced by Winn-Dixie stores & the Federal Bureau of Investigation, this program will encourage children to think about & talk about situations they are sure to face at some time - situations that could invite drug use. And although the program addresses drug use, the themes it presents can also be applied to discussions about alcohol use & cigarette smoking. This program is short enough to hold young viewers' attention, without leaving out any vital information. National Audiovisual Ctr. VHS. (Order #: AVA16823.VNB1CEF) $50.00.

Risky Behavior: The Dark Side of Bad Choices. (1999). Guidance For Children. Color. 25 mins. (YA). Age: 12-17. (gr. 7-12). G. Video Released Sep. 1999. Many teens are involved in risky behaviors such as illegal drug use, promiscuity, carrying weapons & dangerous automobile use. A recent Center for Disease Control survey found that one in every five teens drives under the influence of alcohol or other drugs. Nearly 22 percent of high school students nationwide admit to carrying a weapon. These numbers make it clear that too many adolescents are putting their lives in jeopardy with dangerous, high-risk behaviors. This program looks at the nature of risk taking, both good & bad, by profiling real teens & the choices they make. The program shows that risk taking in adolescence is usually normal & healthy in most instances. It's only when positive risk taking choices are not available that teens may be at risk for negative, dangerous decision making. The video concludes with an opportunity for your students to assess their own risk profile by completing a video survey. Human Relations Media. VHS, pap., tchr. ed. Robert Benchley & the Knights of the Algonquin. B&W. 136 mins. Made-for-Video. Video Released Feb. 2006. Featuring Alexander Woollcott, Robert Benchley, Leo G. Carroll, Donald Ogden Stewart. In this special collection of rare short films, Kino on Video pays homage to the great American satirist Robert Benchley and two other witty literati who shared his company at the Hotel Algonquin's legendary round table and personified the sophisticated literary scene of New York in the 1920s and '30s. From his first screen appearance in 1928, delivering his now-famous The Treasurer's Report (which he first performed live in 1922), Benchley established himself as a sly satirist, even as he stammered and stumbled through his nonsensical monologue. Benchley's amusingly inept lectures were soon mimicked by Donald Ogden Stewart, who would earn an Oscar for his screenplay of The Philadelphia Story, and later be blacklisted for his Communist associations. Curiously, the Communist witch-hunts are the focus of the rarest and perhaps funniest short in the anthology: The Witness, in which Benchley turns the tables on the governmental inquisitors with hilarious results. Benchley's wry filmic explorations of the headaches of everyday married life exhibit the literary acumen and clever insight that made him one of the best-loved humorists of the 20th Century. Mr. W's Little Game stars New Yorker columnist Alexander Woollcott (self-proclaimed leader of the Algonquin Round Table) as a fussy nightclub patron who befuddles a young woman and a stuffy waiter (Leo G. Carroll) with a simple word game. Kino on Video DVD. (UPC: 7 3832904462 6) $29.95.

Roy Smith. Biographical. 84 mins. Directed by Jerry Kuhlman. This is the story of Roy Smith, an African American born in the Ku Klux Klan era, in the Mississippi delta. Traumatized as a child, he escaped by riding the rails, wandering about the country in search of a home. Roy though he had found peace in the '70's, living in a rustic cabin on a Colorado mountainside & working as a cowhand & a miner. But this all-white area did not welcome a black resident. He became a victim of racial hatred, subject to beatings, attacks by dogs, & attempts to run him down with a car. He was even hung upside down. Whenever he complained to the sheriff of Gilpin county he was ignored. Official police records further humiliated him by listing the complainant as Nigger Roy. It took a major civil rights case to bring these abuses to light & to try to recompense Roy Smith. Filmakers Library. VHS. $295.00, Rental 75.00.

Rubix Cube Dinner: The Holiest of Matrimony. Color. 26 mins. (YA). (Subtitled: Spanish, English). Video Released Dec. 2003. Kurt Norby, Karla Saia. Directed by Steven Coy. Commentaries by Steven Coy. Music by Laurel Lee Kelly, Liz Setzer, John Swartz. Produced by Sammy Crutchinfieldson. Screenplay by Steven Coy. Proudly introducing Kürt Norby and Karla Saia to the silver screen, Rubix Cube Dinner is the first-born of many Better Non Sequitur films; here to add spice and Lot's wife to the insipidness you're used to! It's a tennis match of classical nonsense, backhanding wry, rapid dialogue on the nature of man, God, and Star Wars across a mortal table of wit. It weaves the harrowing tale of man and woman, trekking through their frayed, communicative loopholes and perilous ruins of omnipotence. Better Non Sequitur. DVD. (ISBN: 978-0-9743235-1-0(9)) $10.00.

Running on the Edge of the Rainbow: Laguna Stories & Poems. Native Americans. Color. 28 mins. Leslie Marmon Silko. Silko reflects on the nature of Laguna storytelling, its functions, & the problems she has faced as an Indian poet. Though some of the contemporary stories appear to fall into the category of idle gossip (a neighboring woman runs off with another man), Silko discusses how these stories are in fact current versions of traditional tales. Aside from their entertainment value, Laguna stories often serve to bond people together: when recounted, personal experiences become traditionalized. Silko reminds us that printed versions of oral narratives never do justice to them. Ross Publishing Incorporated. VHS, Incl. suppl. materials. $49.00.

The Russian-German War, 3 cass. (1996). History, Continental European. History, Russian. B&W. 47 mins. Video Released Dec. 1996. The Russian-German War is a rare look at one of the worst horror stories in the long infamous history of warfare. For decades the Cold War prevented us from looking closely at what really happened between the Russians and the Germans on the Eastern Front during World War II. More than a struggle between nations, it pitted maniacal tyrant against maniacal tyrant, evil ideology against evil ideology. The lives of tens of millions of human beings were consumed by its raging hatreds and appalling indignities. One in every ten Russians died. One in every four Poles died. Whole divisions of Italians, Rumanians, Hungarians disappeared with barely a trace. An average of 17,800 people died on every single day - and this, the war on the Russian German Front, lasted for 1,400 days. Janson Media. VHS. Saddles & Silks: A Jockey's Story. Color. 122 mins. Video Released Sep. 2005. Crouched for action atop powerful Thoroughbreds, jockeys race their mounts through the clang of the starting gate and around the track to the thunder of pounding hooves and the roar of cheering spectators. In a sport where only one winning horse and rider will seize the opening that takes them across the finish line, there is enormous drama and jubilation in that achievement. Remarkably, most jockeys will never experience it. For every Jerry Bailey or Willie Shoemaker, there are hundreds of unknown jockeys who work hard, risk life and limb, swallow their losses and compete for mounts every day. From the demanding labors of love behind the track to the glory of the Winner?s Circle, this is a rare window into the world of the dedicated ? and dangerous ? life of the Thoroughbred race jockey. Sadistic Versus Non-Sadistic Sex Offenders: How They Think, What They Do. Video Released Mar. 1999. Author Anna Salter. Including rare footage of the most violent type of child abusers, the sexual sadist, this educational video features interviews with sadistic sex offenders and with grooming child sex offenders. The offenders themselves describe their offences, as well as justifications and excuses for child molestation and adult sexual assault, and how those thinking errors and behavior patterns evolved over time. One offender discusses the likelihood that, undetected, he would have eventually murdered his victim. Because this video contains extremely explicit and potentially vicariously traumatizing material, caution should be used in deciding how and when to show it. SAGE Pubns., Inc. Was the Gospel the basis of the formation of a nation like none other in all history? What role did faith and religion play in the founding of America? From the earliest settlers in Jamestown, through the fervent patriotism of the pre-Revolutionary period, and the eventual formation of the original colonies into the United States of America, this documentary examines the religious and spiritual roots of the men and women who founded our country. Saints and Strangers

The San Bush - People of the Kalahari. Sociology. 55 mins. Group. Contribution by Jens Bjerre. Bjerre lived among the Kalahari bushmen for many months in the 1940's & 1950's & recorded this vanishing culture. He describes how he made friends with the bushmen prior to settling in to the community. He notes that the bushmen lived roughly as our earliest ancestors did. In great detail, we see their hunting rituals, secret tribal ceremonies, the relationship between men & women & their skills as craftsmen. In one dramatic sequence, they battle a ferocious brush fire. Upon his return in 1987, Bjerre finds a completely demoralized people. Their hunting way of life has been destroyed by encroaching civilization. Their ancient culture exists only in this film. Filmakers Library. VHS. $295.00, Rental 75.00.

Saturday Night at the Baths. (1975). Color. 86 mins. Virtually unseen since the mid-1970's, "Saturday Night at the Baths" is an entertaining, sexy and provocative look at the gay life style during the post Stonewall, pre-AIDS period. Set in New York City with much of it filmed on location in the famous Continental Baths, this film is a classic time capsule of an era long gone by. Desperate for a job, Michael finds himself as the piano player at the Continental baths. Although he complains to his girl friend about the advances of the club manager, Scotti, Michael is slowly discovering something new about himself. A strange and erotically charged friendship develops between the three of them. In the end, Michael and Scotti come together and Michael releases all the pent up desires that have been building up all his life. Filled with professional female impersonators from the time, white guys dancing in their underwear and a steamy shower room scene, "Saturday Night at the Baths" is a surprisingly poignant glimpse into the gay lifestyle of the 1970's. Savage. (1978). Wrestling. Color. 25 mins. (J). Age: 15-UP. (gr. 10 up). Home, Group. Directed by Carl Jones. With his remarkable & revealing film "Savage," filmmaker Carl Jones takes us ringside, amidst the cigar smoke & sweat of live wrestling. We experience the wrestlers: massive lumps of glistening flesh, thrashing furiously about to the ecstatic throes of crazed spectators. But there is more here than blood, heat, & fans. Behind the gore we glimpse a stylish pantomime that has been re-enacted throughout the centuries - a ritualistic dance reminiscent of the Samurai & the Sumo. The actors strut & leer, flaunting their grotesque caricatures of good & evil, drawing their audience into an ageless morality play. Lane Education Service District. 3/4" U-Matic. Science, Consciousness & (Dare I Say It) God. (1999). Religion. Documentaries, Miscellaneous. Color. 60 mins. (Science & Consciousness Ser.). Made-for-Video. Video Released Jun. 1999. Peter Russell. Integrating leading edge ideas in physics, psychology & philosophy, this video shows that as our exploration of consciousness deepens, science will be forced to question its current assumption about the nature of reality. It may find itself moving more in line with spiritual teachings that hold that consciousness is as fundamental as space, time & matter - perhaps even more so. In trying to pin down consciousness, science has inadvertently embarked upon a course that may ultimately lead it to embrace spirit & - anathema as it may be to the current materialist world-view - God. Not God as some supernatural being overlooking our affairs, but a much more profound & meaningful interpretation & one not in any way opposed to scientific reason. Science may be on the threshold of understanding what mystics have been saying for millennia. Message Co., The. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57282-094-4(2)) $19.95.

Science of Breathing & Glands: Sixteen Breathing Exercises to Promote Health of Body, Mind, & Spirit, Vol. 1, 2 vols. B&W. 60 mins. Home, MRA. G. (English, Narrated: English). Video Released Oct. 2005. Cover Design by Clark Walker. Demonstrated by Bhagat Singh Thind. ?Health Outweighs All Other Blessings? AND REGULAR BREATHING AND GLAND EXERCISES ARE WORTH A HOST OF PHYSICIANS. Any impediment to Respiration checks development, both mental and physical. Oxygen carbonizes the lung tissue, and a fire follows the meeting of oxygen and car-bon in the lung cells, as surely as in the stove, and where this fire is kept constantly burning, it is impossible for bacilli or the cohorts of death to exist. Shallow breathing means that the waste material in the body is not burnt up and the result is fatigue, or a lack of zest for living. The blood, filled with toxins, gets heavy, lazy and causes poor circulation. Nervousness is simply disturbed breathing rhythm.When your Personal Rhythm is disturbed, it harms you physically, mentally and emotionally. The person whose breathing rhythm has the longest pause is the one least likely to breakdown under the strain of action. The art of complete breathing is fundamentalin your task of acquiring relaxation. It releases the nerve centers from the excessive tension which afflicts them. Breathing is the very root of your life. It is vital; it is important that you do it properly.No habit pays bigger dividends and pays them so promptly than breathing, maintainingstrength and suppleness in all the sixteen vital organs of the body. It is the source of yourhealth, your cheerful spirits, your feeling of youth, your energy and your relaxation.Chemical basis of life is essentially an oxidation of tissues. Correct and complete breathing has a tremendous effect on maintenance of the harmony of body, mind and emotions. It brings full relaxation. Only the relaxed mind is open to ideas. A tense person never has the same amount of courage as the relaxed one.All competition is strain and all cooperation is mutual gain. A deep breath helps breakevery fear or sinking spell. A body that functions at its peak is a blessing to its owner.Health is so much higher than all other values that soul alone can build its grandeur and glory upon it. No relationship can long be maintained without health. A healthy personis happier than a sickly, ailing Monarch. There is no real beauty without health and no health without harmony of vital bodily, mental and emotional functions. If you can know how to regulate mind ? processes and synthesize its different units, then you can cure disease completely.These breathing exercises to strengthen the body and spirit are conducted by his HolinessPooran Avatar Sat-Guru Bhagat Singh Thind for your benefit, our growth and God?s glory. Please use the ?Breathing & Glands? DVD and booklet for maximum results. Results are guaranteed. Radiantly yours, Dr. Bhagat Singh Thind Famous Sikh-Spiritual Scientist. Scientific Method. (1999). Science-General. Many think the scientific method is a complicated formula used only by those with a degree in chemistry. In reality, the scientific method is a system of reasoning which can be used to solve almost any type of problem. This program examines the basic elements of the scientific method including defining & researching the problem, forming a hypothesis, using experiments & observations to gather information, analyzing the data, forming a conclusion & communicating the results. Shows many practical day-to-day utilizations of the new scientific method including the testing of new drugs & analyzing the performance of various types of sporting goods. This comprehensive program shows that the scientific method has many practical applications & that most of us use some type of scientific reasoning almost every day. An excellent way to demonstrate the exciting & rewarding aspects of the science field. Cambridge Educational. VHS. (Order #: CCP0438C-D20) $79.00.

Seapower to Superpower, 2 discs. 235 mins. (YA). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Video Released Jun. 2006. ?Whosoever commands the sea commands trade; whosoever commands the trade of the world commands the riches of the world, and consequently the world itself.? - Sir Walter RaleighEngland?s Royal Navy preserved its empire and gave it military dominance of the world for more than 350 years. In the 20th century that dominance would pass from Britain to America and eventually, from sea to space. The English language owes its success as the world language to this fundamental military reality - whoever controls the great commons of the sea and space dominates the world. This DVD collection explores the relationship between military power, technology, commercial realities, and the will of a nation and a people to excel. Historian Mark Milner and Yale University professor Paul Kennedy are our guides in this remarkable five-hour documentary series.Episode #1: Britain Arises This hour covers the defeat of the Spanish Armada and the wars between the Dutch and the English for control of world trade ultimately resolved by an alliance that placed Prince William of Orange on the throne of England along with his English wife, Mary. The alliance guaranteed the Dutch merchant marine access to the world?s oceans but left the Royal Navy supreme.Episode #2: The 18th Century This episode is concerned primarily with the battles between France, the greatest land power, and Britain, the greatest seapower, for world dominance. Program two includes the Battle for Quebec and the American Revolution and traces the decisive role played by naval power in both conflicts.Episode #3: Pax Britannica ? The British PeaceHere we explore Britain?s function, in all but name, as a Superpower. Between 1815 and 1865, Britain adds territory around the world equal to one hundred Englands. By the end of the 19th century, technological innovation increases dramatically. Britain responds with a victory at Jutland in World War One but is exhausted financially after the struggle. Germany is defeated but America and Japan emerge from the conflict stronger than they entered it.Episode #4: Changing the Guard This episode marks the transfer of power midway through WWII from the Royal Navy to the US Navy and the growth of two unique 20th century weapons of war, the submarine and the aircraft carrier. But before that happens, the Japanese make a serious challenge to Britain and America?s domination of the great commons of the sea.Episode #5: Space, the Great CommonsNaval strategists had concluded, with the arrival of cheap land transportation, that the advantage of seapower would be transferred to a land-based empire. By 1946, that challenger, the USSR, had arrived, and with it, atomic power, missiles and satellites. Space, the Great Commons explores the war over space between the United States and the Soviet Union and America?s final triumph while exposing its hidden vulnerabilities as we enter the 21st Century. Searching for Wallenberg. 58 mins. Produced by Robert L. Kimmel, Intrepid Documentaries, Inc. Staff. Tells the legendary story of Raoul Wallenberg, who as a Swedish diplomat in Budapest in 1944, saved tens of thousands of Jews from Nazi deportations and certain death. He accomplished this through intimidation, manipulation and sheer courage. Just before the liberation of Budapest by the Soviet Red Army, in 1945, Wallenberg disappeared. Arrested as a suspected spy, Wallenberg became one of the first victims of the Cold War paranoia. He was taken to the notorious Lubianka prison in Moscow, where he spent most of the next two and a half years. On July 17, 1947, in what became one of the biggest mysteries of the twentieth century, he vanished. Over the past half-century, the efforts of his powerful family and the Swedish and American governments failed to produce satisfactory answers to their queries about Wallenberg's fate. Secondary Rhinoplasty: Alar Lobule to Rim Transfer. (1990). Medical Education. 60 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: Vol. B). Video Released Nov. 1990. Jack H. Sheen. For those of you who are interested in seeing an entire Sheen case from which segments were extracted to produce the Adjunctive Technique videos. This video features secondary rhinoplasty on a short nose with alar rim notching. The problem is to increase the visible length of the nose & provide symmetry to a nostril that is notched & tissue deficient. The surgery illustrates: Septoplasty (posttraumatic); Reduction of posterior caudal septum; Reduction of root using a Foman rasp; Ethmoid graft to a lateral wall; Alar resection (lobule only); Lobule to rim transfer; Tip graft (buttress graft used) producing a more angular tip. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57626-069-2(0)) $100.00.

Secondary Rhinoplasty: Asymmetrical Alar Base. (1990). Medical Education. 60 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: Vol. C). Video Released Nov. 1990. Jack H. Sheen. For those of you who are interested in seeing an entire Sheen case from which segments were extracted to produce the Adjunctive Technique videos. This video features secondary rhinoplasty on a nose that illustrates nasal imbalance & an asymmetrical base. The case is especially interesting inasmuch as there is a radical change in the preoperative surgical plan. Resection of portions of the medial crura exposed a rather striking difference in nostril size, which was handled by changing the type of resection on the right nostril. The patient requested a softly rounded tip, which was the goal with specially formed cartilage grafts to the tip. The following techniques are demonstrated: Resection of medial crura for improved nostril symmetry; Reduction of dorsal height; Widening of middle third of nose (no osteotomy); Septoplasty; Lobule-only resection on right nostril, lobular-vestibular resection on left nostril (change from preoperative plan); Tip graft to achieve a softly rounded tip. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57626-070-8(4)) $100.00.

Secondary Rhinoplasty: Cranial Bone Graft. (1990). Medical Education. 60 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: Vol. A). Video Released Nov. 1990. Jack H. Sheen. For those of you who are interested in seeing an entire Sheen case from which segments were extracted to produce the Adjunctive Technique videos. This video features a supratip deformity with a small nasal contour, poor nasofacial angle, & insufficient septal material for reconstruction. The patient requests angles at the tip. The case illustrates: Septoplasty (complicated with repair of mucosal tear); Cranial bone harvesting & use as dorsal graft; Tip graft with use of buttress graft producing a more refined angular tip; Special packing with septal mucosal tear; Nasal dressing; Head dressing after cranial bone harvesting. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57626-068-5(2)) $100.00.

Secondary Rhinoplasty: Harvesting Ear Cartilage for Nasal Grafts & Maxillary Augmentation. (1992). Medical Education. 30 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: No. 15). Video Released Oct. 1992. Jack H. Sheen. This ongoing video series presents step-by-step surgical techniques performed & narrated by experts in their field. This video combines two adjunctive techniques. Dr. Sheen demonstrates & narrates his current technique for a full conchal resection using the anterior approach & a partial (superior pole) resection. Dr. Sheen also illustrates a maxillary augmentation, using a specially designed proplast implant. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57626-066-1(6)) $125.00.

Secondary Rhinoplasty: Malposition of the Alar Cartilages. (1990). Medical Education. 30 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: No. 14). Video Released May 1992. Jack H Sheen. This ongoing video series presents step-by-step surgical techniques performed & narrated by experts in their field. This tape focuses on the classical findings of postoperative malposition. Treatment includes resection of residual alar cartilages, support of the lateral wall with septal cartilage grafts, & the placement of multiple tip grafts to re-form the tip. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS, Incl. manual. (ISBN 978-1-57626-065-4(8)) $125.00.

Secondary Rhinoplasty: Problems & Solutions. (1992). Medical Education. 60 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: No. 16). Video Released Jul. 1992. Jack H. Sheen. Dr. Sheen shares his thought process & solutions to a complicated secondary problem case. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57626-067-8(4)) $125.00.

Secondary Rhinoplasty: Supratip Deformity. (1990). Medical Education. 60 mins. (Video Perspectives in Plastic Surgery Ser.: Vol. D). Video Released Nov. 1990. Jack H. Sheen. For those of you who are interested in seeing an entire Sheen case from which segments were extracted to produce the Adjunctive Technique videos. This video features a supratip deformity with heavy tissues & a large skin sleeve. The patient wants a tip that has no sharp definition. This tape includes: Patient preparation, cocaine packing, & anesthesia; Maxillary augmentation; Septoplasty; Dorsal graft with septal cartilage; Lateral wall support using ethmoid; Tip graft producing a soft nonfaceted tip; Details of packing & dressing. Quality Medical Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57626-071-5(2)) $100.00.

Sector Trading Strategies: Turning Steady Profits Even in Stubborn Markets. Color. 90 mins. mins. Video Released May 2005. Instructed by Deron Wagner. "Every day the market is open - whether the Dow is moving a point at a time or making triple-digit leaps - SOME sectors are outperforming the market, while others are lagging," says Deron Wagner in his new video course. Now, you can profit from this disparity using Deron's powerful sector trading strategy. Move by move, Wagner shows you how to.* Assess which market sectors are the strongest* Pinpoint the leading issues in top-performing sectors* And "short" the laggards in the under-performing categoriesThis triple-play approach works in all investment climates - and allows you to produce steady - sizeable - returns in high-flying or more subdued markets. Wagner clearly shows you how to:* Define the major market sectors* Understand relative strength - and relative weakness* Use the sector-trading two-step: Rotating out of weak segments and into strong ones* Select top "tracking stocks" in hot sectors Plus, volume and trend trading techniques, "riding" the institutional money flows, profiting from reciprocal sector relationships, and more. While it's a great method for long-term investors - it's even more critical for active, short-term traders. Don't make another market move without using Wagner's on-target approach. Marketplace Bks., Inc. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-59280-155-8(2)) $64.95.

The Seder on Planet Matzah Ball. (Planet Matzah Ball Ser.). (J). Age: 4-10. Video Released Mar. 2004. Millions of miles away, out in deep space on a giant matzah ball, lives a family of funny, furry aliens who just happen to be Jewish. Sadly though, most Jewish traditions on Planet Matzah Ball have been lost.One starry night, just before Passover was to begin, an Intergalactic Passover Guide Book traveling through space happens to crash down on Planet Matzah Ball. The curious Jewish aliens decide to follow the instructions in the book, and have a Passover seder of their own! But there's one problem. They can't find a leader for their seder, the one person who will make sure the most important parts of the Passover story are told!Oogy, the family's nine year son, volunteers to travel to Planet Earth in his spaceship, to bring back a leader. He crash lands in Cleveland, Ohio, right in the middle of the Rosenberg family's seder. There, he learns everything about Passover. But, when it's time for Oogy to return to Planet Matzah Ball, he realizes his mission has failed, he hasn't found a leader for his seder.Or maybe he has?!This amusing story of Passover and all its joyful traditions is ingeniously wrapped around original songs such as, "The Pharaoh Blues," and off-the-wall characters such as Shoshana, a Jewish elephant who wants to attend the seder.Brought to you by a creative team who bring you other popular children's programs this charming tale is sure to amuse and educate kids ages 4 through 10, as well as those adults who are still young at heart.
